THE South-Carolina Gazette.

From MONDAY April 29th, to MONDAY May 6th, 1751.

To the Memory of my much lov'd Friend Mrs. HANNAH DALE, (Relict of Doctor DALE*) who died the 9th of* April 1751, aged 29 Years.

(Written by a Lady of her Acquaintance.)

APOLLO's Sons, whene'er the Wealthy die,
In fawning Verse chant out their Obsequy;
Praise them for Virtues which they ne'er possess'd
Tho' greatly wicked, yet pronounce them bless'd.
—— Shall I be mute when so much Merit calls?
Or when so fair, so fine a Fabric falls!
Oh no — my Muse assist the doleful Tale,
And let thy broken Accents sigh out — Dale:
Ne'er let that wor hy Name forgotten be,
That was belov'd by all, but most by me.
Oh Shade forgive us, if, in humble Verse,
Grateful Perfumes we scatter on thy Hearse;
And own our Loss, for sure we lost in Thee
The fairest Blossom of the fairest Tree.
Such innate Charms her upright Soul adorn'd,
All vicious Pomp and haughty Greatness scorn'd;
No Coquet Airs her Vanity betray'd,
But honest Plainness thro' her Life display'd.
—— Nature indeed, had to her Form been kind,
But her chief Care was to improve the Mind;
Whose great Abilities and Charms were such,
We can't enough admire, or praise too much:
On Life's short Stage, she play'd her Part so well,
There's few could equal, none at all excell.
—— In Marriage State, the most obliging Wife
Liv'd free from Broils and all domestick Strife:
Her Spouse she lov'd, he all her Love return'd,
Each strove to please, and sore his Death she mourn'd;
She mourn'd indeed, but not with wild Despair,
For Hope well-grounded check'd the rising Tear.
She Angel-like subdued her tender Fears,
And in kind Providence repos'd her Cares;
For well her pious Soul Submission knew,
And chearfully she cry'd —— My Friends, ADIEU.
But oh! the sudden Stroke! that snatch'd her hence,
Dear harmless Babe — 'twas none of thine Offence;
Some other fatal Cause did intervene,
And hasty Death clapt his dread Shears between,
To cut the Thread of Life, that's spun so fine:
The Loss is Ours — but all the Gain is Thine;
Releas'd at once from all thy mortal Cares,
Maternal Griefs, and widow'd lonely Fears,
Advanc'd to Scenes of never-ending Bliss
Where Saints congratulate thy Happiness.
Then Muse forbear — no longer swell thy Lays
With fruitless Mourning on her Loss of Days;
But while her Soul doth take its peaceful Rest,
Strive thou to meet her Form among the Blest.

H—— S——.

Mr. Timothy,

I am one of those whom Self-Conviction has obliged to confess, that this Province is the Empire of Beauty: But it is with equal Surprize and Grief, that I observe so few Gentlemen ready to do Justice to such exalted Perfections. I have therefore boldly adventured to sing the Praises of a Lady, whose consummate Merit must excuse the Rashness of the Poet, while it condemns the Weakness of the Performance.

I am, Yours, &c. A. B.

To Miss M—— C——.

FAIREST Nymph where all are fair,
Deign accept your Poet's Lays;
And to lend a list'ning Ear,
While the Muse this Tribute pays.
Venus leaves her fav'rite Isle,
Pleas'd to fix her Altar here:
When with an inviting Smile
Looking on her present Care,
Thus th'ambrosial Goddess said,
Let my Power stand confess'd:
See yon tender gentle Maid
She shall make this Power bless'd.
Blooming Youth adorns her Face,
On her Lips the Graces play;
Ev'ry Beauty takes its Place,
Proud her Orders to obey.
Hark! she strikes the trembling Lyre,
Swift her snowy Fingers move;
Lo! around each young Desire
Dances with each sportive Love.
Not Apollo plays so well,
Tho' to him soft Strains belong;
She can all his Power excell,
Softer, sweeter, is her Song.
But her Virtues brighter shine
Than her all-subduing Charms:
To reward such Worth, be mine;
STREPHON take her to your Arms.
Peaceful Joys shall crown your Days
Glad t'attend your high Command:
While the Poet sings your Praise
In no very distant Land.

PHILADELPHIA, February 12.

FROM Baltimore, on Indian river, there is advice, that on the 19th of Dec. last, they had a violent North-east storm there, in which a new schooner was carried off the stocks, over a piece of marsh and left in the woods: That above 2000 cattle were lost, and a great deal of other damage done.

Boston, March 11. By a letter from Dominica (one of the neutral islands) dated the 10th of January last, we have advice, that two men of war, one English the other French, came that day into the harbour there, in order for the evacuation of that island, and to carry off the people.

Halifax, (Nova-Scotia) Jan. 30. By letters from England we have advice, that Admiral Boscawen will be here early in the spring, with his squadron at least: This is good news; but we have very sanguine expectations of great things to be done in the spring, which we wish to see.

Halifax, in Nova-Scotia, March 13. There is advice from Chinecto, that the Indians have got two more scalps, and by some accident a sloop from Boston, one Harbottle Master, is fallen into their hands. I hear they have taken out the cargo, and burnt the vessel. I believe the fact is certain, but am not well enough acquainted with the circumstances how it happen'd, to give a particular relation of it.

New-York, March 4. Last wednesday was brought to town, a tooth which weighed 5 pounds 6 ounces; upon examination it appeared peared to be a humane tooth! It was found near Susquehanna river, but no discovery hath been made of any other part of the body.

The following Lines called by the Writer, An EPIGRAM, occasioned by some serious, sorrowful and somewhat seasonable Reflections upon Affairs, were delivered to me by an unknown Hand, who at the same Time assured me, it was the Desire of several worthy Gentlemen (both within and without Doors) that they should be published in the Gazette.—What is meant by his Reflections upon Affairs I profess I know not, and am as much at a Loss to find what mean his black Strokes: Therefore, tho' any Body should prove wiser than myself, in supplying or applying Meanings, by Innuendo or otherwise, I hope nevertheless, my Publication of them will offend no one Person, especially, as my chief End is to encourage the poetical Spirit that has but lately made its Appearance amongst us.

P. T.

To the PRINTER.

WHEN Pharaoh's Pride brought down on Egypt's Land,
Th' avenging Plagues of God Almighty's Hand,
What various Miracles of Woes were sent,
To purge their Crimes, and scourge th' impenitent.
A greater Curse poor C——a feels;
A sharper Scourge close follows at her Heels.
The Ills from ill plac'd Pow'r, kept up by Vice,
Do far surpass a Plague of Frogs and Lice.
If fair Hlefs —— had reign'd in Pharaoh's Room,
Then Egypt would have had a Curse at Home:
And needed none to plague them from above;
For he a greater Curse by far would prove. K. X.

MAY be seen, at the Clock-Dial in Tradd-Street, next door to Mr. John Savage's store, the most curious SHELL-WORK ever seen in this province; being the greatest variety of beautiful shells converted into a church, chapel, and houses, all furnish'd, and an imitation of India fruit fronting them. Some ladies and gentlemen, who have seen them, being of opinion they are the finest collection of shells ever produced in America, have advised the proprietor to shew them before they are sent to England, which will be done in a short time.

DUDLEY INMAN,

CARPENTER and Joyner, lately arrived from London, in Capt. Crosbreaster; who now lives next to Mrs. Finlay's in Church street, Charles Town, undertakes all sorts of carpenters and joyners work, particularly buildings of all kinds, with more conveniency, strength and beauty, than those commonly erected in this province, in which he will strictly adhere to either of the orders of architecture: He likewise gives designs of houses, according to the modern taste in building, and estimates of the charge: And hangs bells, in the best, neatest and least expensive manner. —— A good taste in building is a talent (as all others) brought into the world with a man, and must be cultivated and improved with the same care and industry as such others: But a structure, tho' ever so beautiful, cannot yet be perfect, unless supplied with all the conveniencies necessary to remove the disadvantages proceeding from great heat and cold, or, the country wherein it is built: Of such there are but few in or near this town, tho' put up and finished at a greater charge, than if they had all the conveniencies and beautiful proportions of architecture.

All these shall be done to the entire satisfaction of all gentlemen that shall be pleased to employ Their most humble Servant,

DUDLEY INMAN.

To be Sold, on tuesday the 4th of June, at the late dwelling-house of the late Doct. Thomas Dale, all and singular the real and personal estate of Mrs. Hannah Dale deceased; and also all the remaining part of the estate of the said Doct. Dale: For which credit will be given to the first day of January next, on giving security, and paying interest for all sums above 20 l. current money; but all sums under 20 l. to be paid down.

ALL Persons having any demands on either of the said estates, are desired to send them in; and all persons indebted to them, are desired to discharge them without delay.

Charles Pinckney, William Backshell, Executors.

To be Sold, within three months, the country lands belonging to the estate of John Wright deceased, viz. a tract on Charles Town neck, well known by the name of the Rat Trap, containing 140 acres; 240 acres on Hobcaw neck; and part of an island 21 miles from Beaufort, quantity 500 acres, call'd Bloody point. And several negroes, at private sale, a good cooper, house wenches, boys and girls. For further particulars enquire of Messrs. Glen & Cooper. N.B. A good reward is offered to any person that shall give information of the said lands being pillaged.
